The importance of video captions

Add your own subtitles & closed captions

Subtitles and closed captions open up your content to a larger audience, including deaf or hard of hearing viewers or those who speak languages besides the one spoken in your video. If you already have captions or subtitles, get help editing or removing existing captions.

1. Go to your Video Manager by clicking your account in the top right > Creator Studio > Video Manager > Videos.
2. Next to the video you want to add captions or subtitles to, click the drop-down menu next to the Edit button.
3. Select Subtitles/CC.
4. Click the Add new subtitles or CC button.
5. Choose how you want to add or edit subtitles or closed captions to your video:

   - Create subtitles or closed captions
   - Upload a file
   - Transcribe and auto-sync (original video language only)
   - Use automatic captioning
The importance of fonts and text

• Websites / apps should still work when magnified to a large size
• Don’t use color to convey meaning
  – Screen readers do not interpret it
• High-contrast color combinations
• Don’t include placeholders in form fields
• Make form fields easy to find

Hello Barbie

Privacy fears over 'smart' Barbie that can listen to your kids

Campaigners call for ban on Mattel doll that uses voice-recognition technology to respond to children's questions - and send recordings to third parties

Hello Barbie

• “In Mattel’s demo, Barbie asks many questions that would elicit a great deal of information about a child, her interests, and her family. This information could be of great value to advertisers and be used to market unfairly to children.”

• “The conversation capabilities of the Hello Barbie toy from Mattel are powered by a venture capital-backed San Francisco startup called ToyTalk, which receives and interprets speech recorded by a microphone in the doll before initiating a pre-programmed vocal response. Crucially, the data is stored by ToyTalk for use beyond the immediate response.”
Senior citizens
